

5. Deconstruction

© Justin McRoberts 2008 Five Foot Six and a Half Music (ASCAP)

I am comfortable with deconstruction
I am comfortable with doubt
It's the assurance that I'm right about the mystery
The assurance that you're wrong that I can do without

So everything I knew about you
Everything I thought I knew
I'd tear it down and I would leave it all in pieces
If finally what it means is that I'm left with only you

They say it's not about religion
But then they tell you how to think
They say it's all about the way you understand it
Then they tell you what it means that you've experienced these things

They say it's not about performance
They say it's all about the heart
But every critic with his pen or his computer
Talks about effectiveness and not about the art