

Enemy

It's amazing just how much i look like the enemy his hatred looks so much like the hate inside of me i've fallen like so many fools my age throwing stones at all who cross me i won't become a victim of my rage Lord, give me love for the enemy

It's expected that if you swing you'll find me swinging back the exception is in the greatness i so clearly lack i will learn to see you where you said you'd be in the least of these; in my enemies
