

Keep On Driving

© Justin McRoberts 2003 Five Foot Six and a Half Music (ASCAP)

Keep on driving, you're almost there
You can smell the sea salt in the air
Keep on singing those beautiful songs
They will keep you company when the ride gets long

There may be nobody there when you arrive
There may be no banners waving in the sky
Just keep on driving

Keep on driving till the dawn sets in
Because you know that every darkness has it's end
Keep on singing at the top of your lungs
You will know the words before too long

There may be nobody there who knows your name
There may be nobody there at all but just the same
Keep on driving
