

10. Hope Is Where We're Starting From
© Justin McRoberts 2008 Five Foot Six and a Half Music (ASCAP)

Hope is where we're starting from
It makes the horses run to catch the turning earth
That hides the setting sun
The dream is all we've ever had
And now it's bigger than we ever thought it was
And life is so much more than just this
Waking up to fall asleep again

There is more of heaven here than when we started
And the darkness we once feared is breaking up

Hope is where the day begins
As every day must end we trust the earth to turn
And trust the sun still brightly burns
Though we here, for a season, cannot see it

Hallelujah, thank you for your promises