

8. On The Night You Were Betrayed

© Justin McRoberts 2008 Five Foot Six and a Half Music (ASCAP)

On the night you were betrayed
The preacher took the bread singing
“Here’s your body broken now for good
And it will be that way until you pay in shame
For all you’ve done and known you never should.”

On the night you were betrayed
The preacher took the wine
Singing “Here’s the blood you spill just being you
And it will stain your whole life through.”

On the night He was betrayed
The Teacher took the bread
Singing “Here’s My body, broken now for you
And as you drink this cup, receive my love no matter what you do.”
